employment

2013
- PRESENT Blacklisted Pictures
Chief Creative Officer

As a small production company I wear many hats. The most important of them all is collaborating with our clients to find their voice in their brand. We don't just shoot moving pictures, we tell stories.

2001 - 2012 Freelance Editor/Producer
FCP7, Adobe Suite

As a freelance editor and producer I have been able to work with varying clients on projects. Clients have ranged from church & ministries to production companies & political consultants. Projects include capital campaigns, documentaries, episodic television shows, commercials and political work.

2005 - 2007 Associate Producer
Daystar Television Network

Starting as an Editor at Daystar, I quickly moved into a Associate Producer/Technical Producing role. My responsibilities included creative story telling, directing live international broadcast, direct live to tape productions and maintaining show consistency. Additional responsibilities included set design, field camera work, editing, interviewing guest and crew leadership.

training

All training has taken place while on the job. With over 15+ years working in a production environment I have been lucky to have had several mentors who have encouraged me along the way. With instruction and being thrown in the fire I have gained invaluable experience that serves me well today.
